SENIOR WELLNESS PROGRAM

There are many health problems common to older cats and dogs that can be effectively managed or even avoided if timely and effective measures are taken. Unfortunately, just as we can see in ourselves, animals are more likely to develop health problems as they get older. Routine comprehensive examinations can detect some problems, but to detect many abnormalities, early diagnostic tests are necessary.

We have developed a wellness package for animals 8 years and older to help keep your aging pet happy and healthy. This affordable program will screen for ailments commonly affecting older animals and is offered year round. In order to assist with the cost of caring for an aging pet, we have discounted this program by 15%. Please call today at (262)728-3303 to schedule your pet's appointment.

Attention – Alert!!!

Tick-borne diseases are everywhere, and incidence is growing. Lyme disease or Borrelia burgdorferi is carried by the deer tick. Vaccination is highly effective. A screening test can be done that checks for heartworm, Lyme and Ehrlichia canis. Signs of these diseases are variable and include: fever, joint swelling, lethargy, shifting lameness, head tilt, seizures, confusion, kidney failure, anemia or no signs at all.
